REQUEST FOR PROPOSALS
Planning & Analytics Resource Portfolio Evaluation Platform

TO: All Prospective Proposers

SUBJECT: Request for Proposals: Sonoma Clean Power Planning & Analytics Resource Portfolio Evaluation Platform

DATE ISSUED: January 21, 2021

RESPONSES DUE: February 18, 2021

I. PROJECT SUMMARY

Sonoma Clean Power Authority (“SCP”) issues this Request for Proposals (RFP) to solicit proposals from qualified entities (“Proposers”) to provide SCP’s Planning & Analytics department a platform for evaluating SCP’s resource portfolio. SCP will use this platform to drive an internal Integrated Resource Plan (“IRP”) in 2021 to identify the appropriate energy and capacity resources to serve its customers long-term. The platform will also be used to evaluate prospective opportunities that arise in the short-term. The desire is that the platform will provide a step-change versus SCP’s current portfolio evaluation capabilities and generate solutions that honor market conditions and are co-optimized for cost, emissions, reliability, and regulatory risk.

Minority-owned, women-owned and locally-headquartered businesses are encouraged to respond to this RFP.

II. ABOUT SONOMA CLEAN POWER

SCP is a public, locally-run “community choice aggregation” power provider covering approximately 228,000 accounts in Sonoma and Mendocino Counties (except Healdsburg and Ukiah). SCP’s mission is to help solve the climate crisis while keeping energy affordable. For more information about SCP go to: www.sonomacleanpower.org.

IV. PROJECT BACKGROUND & SCOPE

A. PROJECT BACKGROUND
SCP completed previous IRPs in 2018 and 2020 to fulfill California Public Utilities Commission (“CPUC”) regulatory requirements. The primary objective of these IRPs was to demonstrate attainment of the CPUC’s 2030 GHG emissions benchmark and conformance with the statewide Reference System Portfolio (“RSP”). Although SCP’s selected portfolio satisfied regulatory requirements, achieved SCP’s renewable and emissions goals, closely matched SCP’s load, and respected the RSP, the portfolio was not optimized for various forward costs projections or tested against the range of possible market and regulatory outcomes.

SCP’s current portfolio includes long-term PPAs for geothermal, solar, solar plus battery storage, and wind power. SCP also contracted long-term for RA-only battery storage. The current portfolio also includes many short-term contracts for hydropower (in-state and out-of-state), index-plus RPS, and capacity. SCP anticipates evaluating future contracts for a variety of other technologies including utility storage with dispatch capabilities, behind-the-meter storage, long-duration storage, biomass, offshore wind, and others.

SCP recognizes that California’s aggressive climate goals for the electric sector will require a significant increase in procurement of energy and capacity resources in the next decade. Long-term resource planning that honors changing market conditions (e.g. renewable/storage penetration, EV growth, etc.), optimizes cost, and is tested against regulatory risks, is essential for SCP to retain competitiveness. Accordingly, SCP initiated a biennial internal IRP process starting in 2021 with these objectives in mind. The SCP tools developed for past IRPs may not be sufficient for the future IRP planning processes, leading to SCP’s solicitation in this RFP for a sophisticated portfolio evaluation platform.

B. PROJECT SCOPE
SCP is soliciting proposals for a platform that can be used to efficiently evaluate resource portfolios for cost, hourly emissions, reliability, hourly demand matching, risk, and regulatory compliance. The intent is for SCP staff to interface directly with this platform, although a modest amount of consulting services will also likely be required for setup, training, and support. SCP expects to maintain the platform going forward for use in future opportunity evaluation and biennial IRP updates. Below are components of an evaluation platform identified as potentially important to satisfying SCP’s objectives:

- Market Intelligence
  - Hourly day-ahead LMP and hub energy price forecasts through 2045 that are weather-normalized, honor current market conditions, and robustly represent future market trends (e.g. increased renewable/storage penetration)
Monthly capacity price forecasts through 2045 along with anticipated Effective Load Carrying Capacity (ELCC) by technology

Annual forecasts of availability and pricing of prospective PPAs by technology and geography through 2045 (i.e. x MW of new Central Valley solar in 2025 at $x/MWh)

Sub-hourly LMP pricing for real-time energy and ancillary services or a representation of volatility and the resulting value stream from a storage resource through 2045

Deterministic scenarios or stochastic results for all the above given changes in influential assumptions (e.g. low/high natural gas prices, fast EV adoption, ITC extension, carbon cost)

- Resource / Load Modeling
  - Hourly energy forecasts for renewable and hydro resources that are weather-normalized, geographically specific, and can be economically curtailed
  - Hourly load forecast through 2045 that is weather-normalized and reflects meter growth trends and expected increases in NEM solar, BTM storage, and EV usage
  - Modeling of utility-scale storage, long-duration storage (e.g. pumped hydro) and BTM storage resources that optimizes dispatch to minimize overall cost, curtailment, or emissions to serve load and appropriately represents limitations (ITC, cycle limit, degradation, reservoir state)
  - Hourly modeling of CAISO system through 2045 to determine the type of unit on margin, potential curtailment, and associated emissions to fill any open position

- Portfolio Evaluation
  - Hourly resource-level breakdown of net cost to serve load including cost and revenues from PPA, day-ahead market, real-time imbalance and arbitrage, ancillary services, and capacity
  - Hourly evaluation of CO₂ emissions from serving load respecting expected curtailments and unit on margin for CAISO system
  - Capability to efficiently compare portfolio options with deterministic or stochastically dependent output of key metrics including incremental levelized cost or marginal cost of carbon abatement
  - Optimization engine to select a portfolio that minimizes cost, risk, or emissions given a set of regulatory or operating constraints
  - Ability to update portfolio with actual volumes and prices to reassess
